Don't miss a beat as the Harrisburg Symphony concludes their fantastic season with one last bold concert featuring a Dvorák showpiece, the world premiere of a new trombone concerto, and Rachmaninoff's symphonic masterpiece.

Maestro Malina and the Symphony begin the concert with Dvorák's colorful and spirited Scherzo Capriccioso.

The second work is the premiere of Scott McAllister's Concerto for Trombone and Orchestra, with the HSO's own Principal Trombonist Brent Phillips as the featured soloist.

The final work is Rachminoff's Symphony No. 2, considered by many as his greatest composition.

Saturday, May 19 • 8 p.m.

Sunday, May 20 • 3 p.m.

The Forum at 5th and Walnut in Harrisburg

A pre-concert lecture will be given 1 hour prior by WITF Radio Host John Clare.

Tickets, program notes, and details are available online at HarrisburgSymphony.org or by calling 717.545.5527.
